

Society for Endocrinology: BES 2012

Country: United Kingdom

Date: 3/19/2012

Society for Endocrinology: BES 2012

March 19-22, 2012 Harrogate, United Kingdom

We are delighted to bring the Society for Endocrinology BES back to Harrogate for 2012. Many of us are already familiar with the excellent congress centre and the lovely town and I'm sure we all look forward to sampling Yorkshire's finest afternoon tea at 'Betty's tea shop'. Try not to stay there for too long though as you might miss some of the best of British and International basic science and translational research, clinical investigation and clinical practice in endocrinology.

Harrogate is a picturesque town located in the heart of the Yorkshire Dales. This pretty market town is filled with boutiques, antique shops and fantastic accommodation. The conference facilities are excellent, the Harrogate International Centre being one of the largest venues outside of London. Harrogate is accessible via York or Leeds by train and provides easy access to both our northern and southern colleagues.

We will see plenary lectures from the nine medal winners, in addition to the twelve symposia, meet the expert and "How do I approach..." sessions, clinical debate, oral presentations, Nurses symposia, Young Endocrinologists' symposium and of course the vibrant poster presentations. We are even taking the SfE BES to the Olympics with our 'Sprint or Marathon? Muscling in on the Olympics' symposium.

Link: <http://www.endocrinology.org/meetings/2012/sfebes2012/>

Categories: Basic Science, Bone, Cancer, Case Reports, Chronic Diseases, Clinical Research, Diabetes, Disease-Specific Research, Endocrinology, Obesity, Reproductive Health, Translational Medicine, Tumors

Audience: Endocrinologist, Nurse, Nurse Researcher, Physician, Physician Researcher